

Dear iWood Ecodesign ,

Congratulations! You've made domino magazine's Green List! Your company or product is one of 125 honored by our editors for its critical role in transforming our consumer landscape through high-quality sustainable design.

To compile our list, we partnered with leading environmental website treehugger.com and evaluated goods across several categories. We chose winners for their exceptional design ingenuity and authentic commitment to responsible business practices.

When domino's all-green March issue hits newsstands next week, our 550,000 readers will learn about your company. We invite you to add the 2007 domino Green List stamp (coming to you via e-mail) to your website to let your customers know about the honor and to help our readers find your products. You can also link to dominomag.com, where we'll feature a clickable version of the 2007 domino Green List. All month long, dominomag.com will link to your site and the sites of the other winners.

Please be on the lookout for press mentions of your company and the domino green issue throughout March. If you have any questions about incorporating the 2007 domino Green List stamp into your site, feel free to contact our web editor, Catherine Halley, at catherine\_halley@condenast.com or (212) 286-6610. For press inquiries, please contact our director of public relations, Amy Peck, at amy\_peck@condenast.com or (212) 286-4924.

Thank you so much for the work you're doing. We're so proud to share it with our readers.

Sincerely,

Deborah Needleman
Editor in Chief
